

Prof. Deborah D.L. Chung

Department of Mechanical and Aerospace Engineering,
University of Buffalo, will speak on

Modern Chinese History as Witnessed by its Contemporaries

Based primarily on the book Piloted to Serve, Professor Chung will illustrate Modern Chinese history, particularly around 1900–1950, as witnessed by its contemporaries (participants of the Chinese Revolution, the post-revolution unrest and World War II).

Professor Chung's maternal grandfather was a participant in the 1911 revolution, and her mother served as a nurse with the Flying Tigers, the US Army, and the China National Aviation Corporation.

Friday, September 21, 2012

10:30AM – 1PM

Richard Charles Lee

Canada-Hong Kong Library

Robarts Library, 8th Floor

130 St. George Street

University of Toronto

ORGANIZED BY

Richard Charles Lee

Canada-Hong Kong Library

CO-SPONSORED BY

Asian Institute

Light lunch will be served.

Please RSVP at

<http://webapp.mcis.utoronto.ca/ai/Events.aspx>

by September 17, 2012

UNIVERSITY OF TORONTO
LIBRARIES

Richard Charles Lee
Canada-Hong Kong Library
利銘澤典歲

MUNK
SCHOOL OF GLOBAL AFFAIRS

ASIAN INSTITUTE