

A Tommy _____	1 Shakespeare
B Hun _____	2 (informal) a British private soldier
C Cansanova _____	3 an excessively cheerful or optimistic person
D Cassandra _____	4 a very attractive young man
E Pommy _____	5 a person undeservedly neglected or ignored
F Aunt Sally _____	6 ordinary people in general
G Babbit _____	7 a man notorious for seducing woman
H Bobby _____	8 (British, informal, derogatory) an Italian
I The Bard _____	9 a materialistic and complacent businessman
J Knickerbocker _____	10 (British) a happily married couple
K Pollyana _____	11 (informal, derogatory) a German, especially during WWI and WWII
L Adonis _____	12 a British police officer
M Barbie _____	13 a very tall, strong woman
N Cinderella _____	14 (informal) a person who objects to the sitting of unpleasant developments in their neighbourhood
O Nimby _____	15 (Aus/NZ, informal often derogatory) a British person
P Darby and Joan _____	16 an excessively well-mannered or elaborately dressed young boy
Q Tom, Dick and Harry _____	17 a non-native, used by Hawaiians to refer mainly to white people
R Dutch uncle _____	18 a person or thing set up as an easy target for criticism
S Eyetie _____	19 (US, derogatory) an Iraqi suspected of criminal activities
T Fauntleroy _____	20 (used in Spanish-speaking countries) a white person from an English-speaking country;
U Amazon _____	(in Mexico) an American
V Haole _____	21 (N American, informal) a person who lives in the country, regarded as unintelligent or parochial
W Ali Baba _____	22 an unintelligent woman
X Gringo _____	23 a person who prophesies disaster
Y Hick _____	24 (chiefly N American, informal) a person giving firm but benevolent advice
Z Frog _____	25 (informal) a New Yorker
	26 (informal, derogatory) a French person