Shifen Taiwan

台湾十分 放天灯天堂

The place is right on the tracks of an operating railway line “Run! Run! Train coming”, shouted the locals.

We’d just released our lantern, then a train came by

There were other common accidents.

But the locals put out the fire in no time.

Nothing new to them!

The writing process
was much fun

天行願望

天燈

一盞盞的天燈
飄向無盡的夜空
我的心願
天知道

〈顏靜芬〉

Earlier in the day, we released a daytime lantern in Jingtong 菁桐

Other than sky
lanterns,
there are wishing-
well
bamboo
poles too

We
wrote
three poles

...and found our spot to hang them

Jingdong used to be a coal mine

Its deserted old buildings form a very picturesque backdrop for photographs

Oh!

The choo-choo
train!

Everybody
missed this type of train.

We had lunch and afternoon
coffee
there

..while enjoying the country
view
below

A beautiful place

A fun time

Thanks for coming with us
